WINDOWSFACTORY
INNOVATIVE MANUFACTURER

→ Production of glazed aluminium structures

We have confidence in the durability of aluminium systems and their variety of shapes, therefore the company Windows Factory also produces and installs aluminium windows and doors according to individual requirements.

Aluminium is known for its high durability level with regard to weather conditions, and it is also used when less durable materials, such as plastic or wood, reach their maximum size limits. And it has another additional advantage – aluminium windows and doors provide greater protection against breaking in and better sound insulation than wooden and PVC windows and doors.

The variety of aluminium shapes, shades and structures significantly exceeds many other materials. Therefore due to aesthetic reasons aluminium is a very popular material for door and window structures.
